Our Farewell

The end has come and parting is near.

We'll bid farewell to our friends so dear.

Across the distance of the years,

Our memories, dear school, will be of you.

We'll have no thought of doubts and fears

For you gave us courage anew.

The happiness of our years together will in our hearts remain.

We shall each go our separate way

Hoping to someday meet again.

All these memories within our hearts do dwell.

As now we bid our last farewell.

Janice Baldwin

CLAS HISTORY

We, the Senior Class of '57, entered high school in September 1953 facing the new experiences that lay ahead of us. Changing classes, new teachers, sports, and glee club were only a few of these.

With the help of Miss Morris, our homeroom teacher, and Mr. Cannon we soon learned the value of Latin. A large majority of us took part in extra-curricular activities such as sports and the different clubs. We shall long remember our trip with the tenth grade to Raleigh to see the Ice Capades.

The next year Mr. Bowles was our homeroom teacher. We girls were very proud to be in the first Home Economics Fashion Show, which is now an annual affair. Between winking at Mr. Bowles and dodging the flying chalk, we could never find the solution to those long algebra problems. By the end of this year we had become more settled and had begun to realize what high school really is.

We entered our Junior year looking forward to all the events which were to take place. To start the year right, with the help of Mrs. Whitesell, our Junior class advisor, our Halloween carnival was a big success. We made more money on the carnival than had been made in previous years. We were the happiest people in high school the day that we received our class rings. We added another new tradition when the old English "P" was encrusted in our rings. We thoroughly enjoyed our trip to Charleston. We shall long remember the beautiful gardens, the Citadel, and Fort Sumter. In the spring we had our Junior-Senior dance.

When we entered school in September we felt a little different. We were then dignified Seniors. We began to realize what our school days really meant to us. Besides concentrating on studies, we saw many diamonds and wedding bands flashing around school. Something different in entertainment at school was enjoyed this year, "The Scandals of the Sandhills." We shall always remember studying Chaucer in English Literature. In the spring we went to Washington. We shall never forget this trip. We all enjoyed it thoroughly, but I believe this trip made Pinehurst history. After the trip we returned to school, electing mascots, superlatives, writing invitations and term paper.

So now we come to a conclusion of our four years in high school. These four years were filled with work, play, and mischief. To conclude our history we can never forget Mr. Garret and "Haw You."

PROPHECY

Perhaps you would like to take a trip with me into the future. We are going to find out what our class will be doing ten years from now. Hop aboard our sightseeing helicopter and we will begin our trip.

Let us begin by taking a look in on Kenneth Whitesell. There he is now. He and his boys have landed one of the biggest contract jobs on record. They are going to paint the Empire State Building.

By the way, who are those four boys down there in those navy uniforms? It looks like Robert Garrison, Billy Talbert, Bobby Cole, and Waylon Black. They are home on passes from the navy. All their friends love to hear them tell about their adventures with Uncle Sam.

There come Barbara Adcox and Donny Garner out of Pinehurst School. They have become very popular teachers there. It looks as though they have a visitor. Yes, it is Wayne Hardy. He is now doing research work in the field of mathematics.

Who are those two girls in white going into the nurses home? They are Joyce Edmonds and Betty Dupree. Both have responsible positions at Moore County Hospital.

There come the bankers out of their meeting. Who is that man in the group with the flat hair cut? Why, it's Nelson Black, one of the best known bankers in the country.

Listen! Do you hear music? It is coming from the Concert Hall. Janice Baldwin and Fred Taylor are playing there this week.

There goes Coach Carl Garrison. He has been having a very good season this year in Pinehurst. He is coaching ice hockey here.

Here come Arlene Hussey and Joan McDonald out of the bank. They are both head bookkeepers in the bank. They both received good training at Pinehurst High.

Maureen Brennan and Faye McKenzie own a beauty parlor in Southern Pines. They are known all over the United States for their original hair styles.

Frances Kennedy is now happily married and has made her home in Portland, Oregon.

Well, that about ends our tour. Everyone seems to have become successful in their challenge to the world.

Donny Garner

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the graduating class (we hope!) of Pinehurst High School, being of sound bodies and questionable minds, do hereby make known our last will and testament. After thoughtful consideration, we bequeath:

- I To the Juniors of '57, our successors in '58, we leave our will to learn, our good conduct, and our cooperation with the teachers with the hope that they may use them more successfully than we did.
- II To Mr. and Mrs. Cannon and the entire faculty, we leave our sincerest thanks for everything that they have done for us. With them pushing us from behind to keep us from faltering, we finally made it. Thanks!
- III To our underclassmen, we leave our short lunch period. Maybe some day they will by some skillful negotiations, gain a longer period.
- IV The following individuals leave to certain persons some of their personal talents:
  - (1) Barbara Adcox leaves her happy-go-lucky way and her singing voice to Deana Sheffield.
  - (2) Waylon Black leaves his ability to have fun in English class to Elwood Ritter.
  - (3) Janice Baldwin leaves to Nettie Jane Frye her ability to catch a good looking fellow (G. T.)
  - (4) Carl Garrison bequeaths his will to learn and his large vocabulary to Dayton Lunday.
  - (5) Frances Kennedy wills her knack of making good French grades to Brad Johnson.
  - (6) Fred Taylor leaves his happy disposition and large collection of wise-cracks to David Bosworth.
  - (7) Maureen Brennan Cribb wills her incredible ability to miss French tests to Raymond Clapp.
  - (8) Donny Garner wills to John Santy his way with girls and his ability as a "plugger".
  - (9) Joan MacDonald bequeaths her seat on the bench at Aberdeen Lake to Jean Yarbourgh.
  - (10) Nelson Black leaves to Ralph Gilliland his ability in sports and his all-around good personality.
  - (11) Faye McKenzie leaves her ability to misbehave in class and still keep an innocent look on her face to Allison Gramelsbach.
  - (12) Kenneth Whitesell bequeaths to Bill Prince his ability to make up jokes.
  - (13) Joyce Edmonds leaves her ability to study and the rest of her Blondex to Shannon Correll.
  - (14) Bobby Cole leaves his cool manner and stylish hair-do to "Lank" McKenzie.
  - (15) Arlene Hussey wills her all-around ability and her name, "Smiley", to Nancy Couger.
  - (16) Wayne Hardy leaves to Sylvia Bryant a photograph of his class and hopes that someday she will have one as beautiful.
  - (17) Betty Dupree leaves to Patty Creath her ability to ask sensible questions in Economics.
  - (18) Robert Garrison wills his football suit and dental appointments to James Ritter.
  - (19) Bill Talbert wills his keen moustache to Johnny Grier.

OUR WASHINGTON TRIP!

At about 7:30 a.m. on Tuesday morning, April 30, a group of forty Juniors and Seniors began to gather in front of our high school building in preparation for our long awaited trip to Washington, D. C. Since our group was so large, it was pre-arranged by our Superintendent, Mr. Cannon, to charter a bus for the trip. Soon the bus arrived, and we were on our way.

We arrived at the Houston Hotel in Washington about supper time that evening. We freshened up very quickly and then enjoyed our first meal in Washington.

On Wednesday, the first building we toured was the Bureau of Engraving. We were all astonished at the huge amounts of money! Next came the Capitol, and in our tour of the Senate, it gave us a strange feeling when the guide informed us that we were seated very near the seats that the Puerto-Ricans sat in who tried to kill President Truman. Also we viewed Washington from the Washington Monument. That night we took a boat ride down the Potomac.

Thursday we visited the Franciscan Monastery, which was very impressive. We also went through the White House. The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was visited, too.

On Friday morning we checked out of the Houston Hotel and began our trip to the Luray Caverns. On our way we stopped to see Mount Vernon. It was very interesting to see how the people lived in the past. The Luray Caverns were very beautiful.

We arrived at Natural Bridge, Virginia near supper time Friday evening. After supper we went down to the natural bridge and saw the "Drama of the Creation." We were all amazed at the bridge. We spent the night there and after breakfast Saturday morning a happy group loaded the bus to start home after a most unforgettable trip.

AMERICAN LEGION HONORS FOOTBALL PLAYERS

The Pinchurst football banquet, given annually for the football team by the Pinchurst Post of the American Legion, was held in the school cafeteria Monday evening, December 17. The guest speaker was Coach Sid Varney of Elon College. All present thoroughly enjoyed his talk. The dinner was prepared and served by Miss Burns and several girls from the Home Ec. Department.

The football team had a won-lost record of 3-4, which included a near-upset of '56 state six-man football Champs, Southern Pines.

BASEBALL AT P.H.S.

The Pinchurst baseball team won four games and lost five this season. This was an improvement over last year's record. The team won games from Farm Life(2), Westmoore, and Carthage.

The team, playing without four starters, lost to Cameron in the tournament, 13-9.

LIONS ENTERTAIN P.H.S. BASKETBALL TEAMS

The annual Pinchurst basketball banquet, sponsored by the local Lions' Club, was held March 13 in the school cafeteria.

The guest speaker for the event was Coach Carl Ruth, Athletic Director at Catawba College. He thoroughly entertained the audience with his interesting and humorous talk.

The awards for the girls team went to Arlene Hussy as most valuable player and to Alice Garrison for sportsmanship.

From the boys team Wayne Hardy was chosen most valuable and Donny Garner best sport.
